The IEEE Consumer Technology Society is soliciting technical papers for oral and poster presentations at the 14th IEEE International Conference on Consumer Electronics (ICCE-Berlin), taking place in presence in Berlin. ICCE-Berlin is the established forum for innovative research in all areas of consumer electronics and takes place in conjunction with the renowned International Trade Show on Consumer Electronics (IFA), which opens its doors in Berlin September 5-9, 2025. Authors are invited to submit original unpublished manuscripts of 2 to 6 pages in length including a 200-word abstract to EDAS using the IEEE double-column conference format template and following the instructions for authors on the conference website. All accepted papers will be published in the ICCE-Berlin 2025 Proceedings and submitted to IEEEXplore for indexing.
